□ The former Fairymead Mill FELIN-HEN (Baldwin 46828 of 1917) returned to France in 2002 and is nearing the end of its restoration to Great War condition. In its original guise as 5104 it is pictured at Tacot des Lacs, near Nemours, in 2009. Photo: Patrick Mourot

Added notes: See www.tacot-des-lacs.com for photographs from the museum. The site is in French but links to the collection and the 1917 Baldwin locomotive are obvious.

Fairymead Mill's Felin-Hen (Baldwin 0-6-2 b/n 46828 of 1917 and rebuilt 1956) is currently being restored in France by owner Patrick Mourot, and will soon become a 2-6-2T.

These photographs, via John Browning in Rockhampton, were taken by a correspondent who recently spent a day with Felin-Hen and her owner.

While Felin-Hen served for many years at Fairymead Mill it also has a French connection due to WWI service, and was returned to France several years ago with the guarantee of full restoration to original condition.
